The Importance of Higher Studies

Dear Students,

An undergraduate degree is not the end of your academic journey—it is the foundation for greater opportunities. Pursuing higher studies equips you with advanced knowledge, critical thinking skills, research aptitude, and professional competence required in today's competitive world.

As students of Economics, you have diverse pathways ahead, including postgraduate studies in Economics, Data Analytics, Public Policy, Development Studies, Finance, Business Administration, Law, and Civil Services preparation. Higher education enhances your employability, opens doors to research and teaching careers, and enables you to contribute meaningfully to society and policymaking.

I encourage each one of you to aspire beyond graduation, remain curious, and invest in continuous learning. The Department of Economics is committed to guiding you in exploring higher education opportunities and building a successful academic and professional future.

Dr. Rupali M. Tamuly
Associate Professor
(HoD)

MEET THE NEW TEAM

Ms Supriya Gaonkar

Ms. Supriya Gaonkar, Assistant Professor of Economics at C.E.S. Parvatibai Chowgule College, holds an M.A. in Economics from Goa University and is MH-SET qualified. With two years of teaching experience and a 2026 national conference research publication, she is passionate about teaching, teamwork, and student engagement. She looks forward to contributing to the department and creating a meaningful academic year for students.

Ms Sharanya Ravindranath

MS. Sharanya Ravindranath is in her fourth year of teaching Economics at Parvatibai Chowgule College of Arts and Science (Autonomous), Margao. With a passion for making Economics meaningful and relatable, she believes that teaching is a continuous journey of learning and growth. Her interactions with students provide opportunities to explore new perspectives and deepen her understanding of the subject.

Ms Renuka Sagvekar

Ms. Renuka Sagvekar is an assistant professor with seven years of teaching experience and a deep passion for economics. Her primary area of interest is Labour Economics. She strongly believes in maintaining a healthy balance in life and encourages her students to adopt the same approach—balancing academic pursuits with personal growth and well-being.

EXPANDING OUR ECONOMICS FAMILY 2026

The Department of Economics organised a Welcome Programme on 20 July 2026 to warmly welcome the First Year students into the department. The event provided an opportunity for the newcomers to interact with the faculty members, senior students, and the newly elected Economics Forum, fostering a sense of belonging from the very beginning of their academic journey.

A major highlight of the programme was the Mr. & Miss Corporate 2026 competition, where participants showcased their confidence, talent, and stage presence.
The titles were awarded to:
Mr. Corporate 2026: Sachin Kulu
Miss Corporate 2026: Pari Patel

The programme commenced with the reception of the First Year students, who were presented with themed badges. This was followed by the formal inauguration of the event and a welcome address by the Head of the Department, Dr. Rupali Tamuly, who encouraged the students to actively participate in academic and co-curricular activities throughout their time in the department.
The event featured a lively cultural performance by the Second Year students, followed by interactive games that brought together students from all three years, creating an atmosphere of enthusiasm and camaraderie.
As a special gesture of welcome, themed bookmarks were presented to all First Year students by the faculty members.
The programme concluded with a soulful musical performance by the Vice President, Ms. Calida Coutinho, followed by the Vote of Thanks.

LEADING THE WAY FORWARD

The Department of Economics organised the Economics Forum Induction Ceremony on 20 July 2026 to formally induct the newly elected office bearers of the Forum.

The ceremony commenced with a welcome address by the Head of the Department, Dr. Rupali Tamuly, who warmly welcomed the gathering and extended her best wishes to the newly elected members as they began their tenure.

The newly elected office bearers were then formally inducted and presented with their badges, symbolising their commitment and responsibilities towards the forum. The President of the Economics Forum, Nikasha Rodrigues , delivered an address outlining the forum's vision and objectives. She also highlighted the various activities planned for the academic year and encouraged students to actively participate and contribute to the success of the forum. The ceremony concluded with the introduction of the remaining Forum members to the audience.

Investment Awareness Program

The Department of Economics, Parvatibai Chowgule College of Arts and Science (Autonomous), in collaboration with Krisha Foundation, a SEBI SMART's Empanelled Organisation, organised an Investment Awareness Program on 6th August 2026 at the Upper Auditorium. The session aimed to enhance students' understanding of financial planning, investment opportunities, and the importance of making informed financial decisions. The programme began with an engaging quiz, followed by a welcome address by Dr. Rupali Tamuly and an introduction of the resource person by Ms. Renuka Sagvekar.

The resource person, Mr. Rahul Mishra, delivered an insightful session on the fundamentals of investing, highlighting concepts such as Return on Investment (ROI), goal-based financial planning, inflation, liquidity, and calculated risk-taking. He also explained various investment avenues, including Fixed Deposits, Recurring Deposits, insurance, the stock market, and mutual funds, while introducing investment strategies such as SIP, STP, and SWP. Students were encouraged to adopt disciplined investing habits and begin investing early to benefit from the power of compounding.

The programme concluded with an interactive discussion, reinforcing the importance of maintaining a diversified investment portfolio, completing KYC formalities, and making well-informed financial decisions. The session provided students with valuable practical knowledge on responsible investing and wealth creation, inspiring them to build a financially secure future.

STAR OF THE DEPARTMENT

ATHARV PAI KAKODE

Atharv Pai Kakode of TYBA (Economics) secured the highest CGPA in the department for the academic year 2025–26. Adding to this achievement, he also successfully cleared the CA Intermediate Examination in September 2025 and earned an Articleship, marking an important milestone in his professional journey.

The Department of Economics takes pride in his accomplishments and wishes him continued success in his future endeavours.

Students Corner

Achievement

On 31 July 2026, Aditya Nayak , of FYBA, represented the Department of Economics at the State-Level Quiz Competition organised by the Goa Tourism Development Corporation on the theme "Goa Beyond Beaches." Competing against participants from across the state, the duo secured the Second Position. The competition provided an enriching opportunity to explore Goa's rich heritage, vibrant culture, and lesser-known attractions beyond its beaches, making it a rewarding and memorable learning experience.

NICOLE GOMES

TYBA 2025 - 26

I'm Nicole Gomes, a B.A. Economics graduate from the Department of Economics, Parvatibai Chowgule College of Arts and Science (Autonomous). I'm excited to begin my M.Sc. in International Accounting and Finance at Dublin Business School, Ireland. My time in the department was truly enriching, and I'm grateful to the faculty for their constant support and guidance. To my juniors, stay curious, work hard, and believe in yourself , every step you take today will help shape your future. Wishing you all the very best!

TYBA 2025 - 26

MSC Economics | Gokhale Institute Of Politics And Economics

My academic journey in Economics has been both intellectually enriching and personally rewarding. It has provided me with invaluable opportunities to develop my analytical thinking, broaden my perspective, and grow through both successes and challenges. I am sincerely grateful to my professors for their unwavering guidance, encouragement, and support throughout this journey, and for always ensuring that I never strayed from my path. Their mentorship has played a significant role in shaping not only my academic understanding but also my confidence as a student.

To my juniors—who have been one of my greatest sources of motivation and support—I would like to leave you with this: embrace every opportunity to learn and remain endlessly curious. While academics are important, remember that education extends far beyond the classroom. Step outside your comfort zone, explore new perspectives, make mistakes, learn from them, and never stop growing. Approach every challenge with dedication, perseverance, and an open mind. The knowledge you gain today will become the foundation for the opportunities you create tomorrow. Most importantly, never hesitate to ask questions. Economics may not have all the answers, but your professors usually do (or, at the very least, they'll know where to find them!). Keep pushing your boundaries, never limit yourself to a single path, and always strive to become a better version of yourself.

Finally, to everyone I could not mention individually, please know that your encouragement, support, and the occasional much-needed reality check meant more than words can express. Thank you for believing in me, for pushing me when I doubted myself, and for reminding me of what I was capable of during moments when I couldn't see it myself. I wish each and every one of you the very best in your future endeavours. Keep learning, keep exploring, and most importantly—enjoy the journey. Best of luck, everyone... and don't forget to have fun along the way! XD*
